INTRODUCTION

This factsheet is largely based on the inputs and observations of 43 organisations working in child protection in Georgia. As the survey was shared through child protection national coalitions, most of the respondents are coalition members [35 organizations], yet only a relatively small minority of them state that they are part of a national level INSPIRE working group [10 organizations].

This does not mean, however, that they do not conduct activities that deal with key aspects that INSPIRE aims to tackle, in some cases actually applying solutions that are perfectly in line with the INSPIRE approach. Indeed, a number of organisations working in Georgia that took part to the survey conduct activities that directly relate to one or more of the INSPIRE strategies.

Number of organisations and institutions working on INSPIRE strategies in Georgia

CROSS - CUTTING ASPECTS

The section below point at cross-cutting aspects that are relevant for all INSPIRE strategies. Examples of activities relevant to the different strategies will be outlined separately in the following section.

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE NGO SECTOR AND STATE AUTHORITIES

From 43 respondent organizations 31 replied to the question identifying the financial or other types of support from the government or other sources. 21 of them indicated that they have not received grants from the government and 7 indicated that they conduct activities/ provide services through the governmental voucher funding; some of them mentioned that they additionally fundraise for providing the services. Three of the organizations, including Coalition for Children and Youth, are implementing directly project activities connected with INSPIRE Strategies financed by INSPIRE fund, USAID – EWMI ACCESS, Oak Foundation. The aim of the projects is to advocate for and raise awareness about INSPIRE strategies by involving the relevant stakeholders and targeting decision makers.

ACTIVITIES CONDUCTED BY ORGANIZATIONS THAT ARE PART OF A NATIONAL LEVEL INSPIRE WORKING GROUP

10 organisations from 43 are part of INSPIRE working group. The group is functioning under organisation “Initiative for Social Changes”, with financial support from the INSPIRE fund. The group is uniting CSO’s and governmental representatives. The aim of the WG is to choose country relevant programs from the model provided by INSPIRE, create a national INSPIRE advocacy strategy, and promote it towards the decision makers.

PREVENTION OF SEXUAL ABUSE AND EXPLOITATION

13 respondents indicated that within their work they tackle prevention of child sexual abuse and exploitation, mostly by activities aimed at awareness raising and prevention:

- Trainings and individual counselling for children in service
- Trainings for family members, pupils, school and early and pre-school education staff
- Series of Lectures and public events
- Implementing Child Safeguarding Policy
- Training Curricula for persons with disabilities and trainings for beneficiaries using the services of the day care centre
- Different activities on the topic of “reproductive health of girls with disabilities”
- Empowering and training the professionals working with children
- Providing services for victims of sexual exploitation
- Awareness raising programs and trainings for professionals, social workforce, Foster parents
- Taking part in drafting of legal frameworks

Examples of practices

Several programs and practices have been highlighted by the organizations participating in the mapping exercise as good practice examples, while some organizations have found it difficult to choose from among their programs and interventions.

Charity Humanitarian Center Abkhazeti is conducting crime awareness raising program for young people; Profession orientation, Internship and employment program for children and youth in care.

1 Initiative for Social Changes
2 Partnership for Human Rights
3 Coalition for Children and Youth
Welfare and Development Centre is implementing a project funded by Arbeiter - Samariter – Bund where multidisciplinary needs assessment of persons with disability are conducted and interventions are planned based on the results. Needs-based services are also delivered at home, including involvement of specialists making home environment adapted to the need of the disabled persons and providing home-based material support, care and rehabilitation.

“Social Umbrella” Association implements the family support model which includes assessment of family needs and planning of multidisciplinary group intervention. As a result, families and especially women became fully functional from a social point of view. The programs also had impact on children’s life as well, improving their academic achievement and levels of social and independent life skills. Assessment of project results is based on feedback from families, schools, kindergarten and other stakeholders.

Partnership for Human Rights (PHR) is conducting activities with the aim of raising awareness concerning violence against children. The increased efficiency of the actions is due to the fact that children, parents and teachers gain skills for identifying different forms of violence against children, enabling adequate response and services by the correct identification of the actual problem. The development of such skills has to be followed by adequate legal counselling and assistance to enable successful self-advocacy by the beneficiaries.

Education Development and Employment Center has implemented the project "Educate, Employ, Advocate and Legislate for Equal Opportunities for People with Disabilities", aiming to contribute to sustainable inclusive socio-economic development through improved transition from training to employment. The project has developed a successful employment model which was taken over by the government in 2017 to be further implemented. The model focused on improving correlation between labour market needs and vocational education training (VET) sector development by encouraging partnerships between vocational schools and businesses and use of formal, non-formal and informal education methods.

Georgian Foster Care Organization has been piloting an innovative community support service in the frame of an EU funded project. The Parental Skills Training Service was initially started by the clergy and further developed together with the project team and has been providing parenting training to the members of the religious congregations. The main objective of the program is to minimize abuse of children in the families by training and empowering parents to establish positive communication with their children based on trust and understanding, thus preventing child abuse. The program should be extended to reduce wide-spread harsh parenting practices, promote non-violent discipline and effective parent-child communication. The church seems well positioned to advance the program due to its high public trust.

Georgian Centre for Psychosocial and Medical Rehabilitation of Torture Victims has programs for with juvenile offenders in criminal justice system; Parental training and assistance programs.

Charitable Fund “Ai la” Indicated that most successful practise to be children with hearing difficulties or hearing loss parental club.

ABOUT THIS REPORT

This factsheet is produced by ChildPact and Coalition for Children and Youth in the frame of two regional projects funded by Oak Foundation and INSPIRE Fund. The two projects include complementing initiatives to map the activities that are currently being conducted in line with the INSPIRE framework in the extended Black Sea Region with the objective of better understanding the current efforts and improving synergies between existing actors working on the implementation of INSPIRE strategies.

The data was collected between April and July 2019. The Mapping Survey is available in English at this link.

We would like to thank all the organisations who have participated to this important mapping exercise during the last months.
